Currently, the ASDCA requires all of our members to abide by our Code of Ethics, which has the minimal requirement of certifying the dog's hips to be free of hip dysplasia either by the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals or by PennHip (or equivalent). This evaluation must be completed after the dog is two years of age. Further, our Club does require that breeder evaluate the elbow status and make it public for participation in the Canine Health Information Center (CHIC) database. This additional requirement for CHIC is not a part of our Club's Code of Ethics at this time.
